HOW GREATER BLOODSHED WAS AVERTED. FOMENTERS OF UNREST?

British Co-operating With the Powers.

Had the mob in Shanghai seized the arms in the Police Station on May 30 there would have been greater bloodshed, declared Mr. A. M. Samuel in the House of Commons, when he pointed to the co-operation of the Powers and the surest remedy for the disturbances...

LABOUR CONDITIONS.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, June 15. The position in China was the ubject of a number of questions by Labour members and others in the House of Commons.

Replying to a suggestion by Mr. Will Thorn (Labour) that the trouble in Shanghai was due to low wages and the employment of children. Mr. A. M. Samuel, Parliamentary Secretary of the Department of Overseas Trade. for the Foreign Office emphasised that the British Government had done all it could to improve conditions of labour within the International Settlement and had no control outside. The mob at Shanghai was very large and murderous. Had they succeeded and seized the arms at the police station there undoubtedly would have been greater bloodshed. The British policy in respect of the trouble in China had been adopted in concert with the other Powers interested and no points of difference had arisen. Mr. Samuel paid a tribute to the firm and tactful manner in which the Italian Minister, Signor Cerruli, ! the senior diplomat in Peking. was handling the situation. He (Mr. Samuel) emphasised that the Government respected China. and would gradually lend all support with a view to securing China's prosperity and peace The casualties in Shanghai were 21 Chinese killed, 65 Chinese wounded, and one American ENTIRE STOCK: wounded.

The Hankow Affair.

The British Consul at Hankow reported that the firing there was inevitable. Had the Chinese authorities co-operated with the defence force, a deplorable loss of life would have been avoided.

The disturbances in Hankow and Shanghai were a symptom of the deep and widespread unrest exploited by interested parties to stir up feeling against those Powers with the largest interests in China who, therefore, were deeply concerned to co-operate with China in the task of progress and reform. The surest remedy for the anti-foreign feeling in China would lie in an attempt by the Treaty Powers to carry out the decisions of the Washington China. The Government was It trusted that the forthcoming of China would afford an opportunity of removing such obstacles. dissipating the present atmosphere of distrust and inaugurating an era of fruitful co-operation between China and the Powers.

Mr. Samuel emphasised that no Chinese were killed by British forces. The casualties were inflicted by the Police of the Inter-METAL ROOFING | national Municipality of Shang-

COPRA DEMAND.

REACTION IN MARKET NOTED

AS SUPPLY DIMINISHES.

A reaction in the wholesale

Copra and coconut oil, both in domestic and foreign trading, have continued weak and featureless. 'In my opinion it is a question little attention being given by

Now that the demand is rather than allow money to go on growing again, values of copra the German mind that if they were ports from New York stated to spend £50,000,000 a year they that, American soap men have could ruin the industries of this just entered the market for coconut oil, despite the campaign to disreadit coconut products in the western states. This change in the oil market, it was observed. has had favourable reflection in the local coconut oil and copra trading.

Co-operating for the development of the coconut industry in the islands, W. L. Brooke, chemist of the bureau of science, has recently determined in a study made at Nagcarlan, Laguna, the weights of the component parts of the coconut. It was found that about 37.54 per cent., by the weight of the coconut Rotter-lam is represented by the husk, 25.45 per cent, by the meat (parcel), 1769 per cent., by shell, 14.08 per cent., by water, 3 61 per cent., by parings, and 1.82 per cent, by steami g loss.

I cannot adnit that the responsibility rests ipon the British authorities, who were unable to obtain brompt and adequate protecion from the Chinese authoriies, and were obliged to act or themselves. I cannot rerain from reminding your excellency that I have rejeatedly warned the Chinese fovernment of the grave reponsibility they are incurring ly allowing the present antiritish agitaiton to proceed inchecked. The deplorable wents at Hankow are evidence if the justice of my warnings. have instructed the Consular flicers throughout China to do derything to prevent a recurrince of such incidents, but I nust carnestly beg your Excellncy to take energetic measires to discourage any agitaton which leads to such dsastrous results. I had the hinour to show you at our interview last evening partiphles and newspapers giving the most mendacious accounts of tle happenings at Hankow, making it appear that my compatriots had fired upon a harmles student demonstration. myself observed this morning inthe streets of Peking a poster ediveying the same absolutely fase impression. I regard the disemination of these calumnns as dangerous in the exreme, for the people's disposition is uncertain, and one explosion may well be followed by others with deplorable resuts. I, therefore, trust that your Excellency will take early omortunity for issuing a statemunit which will place the Clinese public in possession of the real facts, and thus dispel anatmosphere of prejudice and misunderstanding created by thise false rumours." The Note is signed by Mr. C. M. Palaret, C.M.G., British Charge d'Affuires.

What sussion, other than the force of the law with its drastic but not necessarily deterrent punishments, is brought to bear on those who have caused themselves to be punished? If the question is answered according to report, it is in the negative. Is there any Society in Hongkong devoted to the welfare of prisoners? We believe there is none. The foreigner is not interested to any great extent visits the women in prison. The men, presumably are left alone. There may be reasons for this. One we may call language. If there are any others one of is the great cause of all our social troublesindifference. And to this may be added that the physcology of the Chinese character is somewhat baffling. But what of Chinese who are not indifferent to the Weaknesses of their less fortunate nationals? What of the Confucian Society? Are there no Confucian those who have strayed from the path of rectitude? A prisoner serves his sentence and is let free. He is swallowed up in the crowds that are as ants upon sugar. A ONE-MAN ARCADIA.

FAIRY GODFATHER OF SUSSEX VILLAGE.

Telscombe, the capital village of the wild" and rolling downs, owes its happiness, its prosperity and its very isolated beauty to the efforts of one man. It is, indeed, the One-Man Arcadia.

Mr. Ambrose Gerham, bachelor, gentleman farmer, keen sportsman, rider to hounds and, above all. lover of children, is the embodiment of the fairly godfather and the hail-fellow-well-met. Nothing happens in Telscombe unless Mr. Gorham is behind it. Few people come to Telscombe who are not made welcome by Mr. Gorham.

Mr. Gorham renovates the church: Mr. Gorham educates the children; Mr. Gorham has the children taught to dance the beautiful measures of the countryside; Mr. Gorham has the hedges trimmed the fences painted white, the cottages kept in repair, the lanes kept sound and neat; Mr. Gorham employs practically the entire male population of the little village, and there is a wonderful 5 content existing.

But his most notable achievement, surely, was when he decided to preserve Telscombe 3 just as it is—a typical village of the Downs, set deep between the wind swept hills, its houses and b cottages clustered about the 12th Q century church.

There is no shop in Telscombe, but the village is well served. There is no policeman, there is no public house. though the institute possesses a licence; there are no lunatics or paupers.

Such is the pride of Mr. Gorham in these facts that some years ago he had a Christmas card designed setting forth the village virtues. Telscombe is a good place to live in. Mr. Gorham has made it his li

CONCERT ON MONDAY.

Mr. Edward Johnson, Canadian tenor, the pupil of Lombardi, Caruso's teacher, appears at the Theatre Royal for one night only on June 22.

Edward Johnson is considered the Royal tenor of Italy, for during his seven years unique success all over Europe, His Majesty the King of Italy watched with keen interest this tenor's brilliant career, and in 1920 conferred upon him the Cross of Officer of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

In Rome when His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales was the guest of the King of Italy, he expressed a desire that this gifted tenor should be presented to him after a Command Performance, and a few weeks later, when His people to turn out to the last man to do Johnson due honour on his Streets Flooded.

. The actual City appears to have escaped with mere inconvenience caused by floods although houses in Wanchai, little more than coolie matsheds, appear to have collapsed. This morning, apart from pools, little remained to indicate what the main roads were like at the height of the storm but any who were on the Praya between two and three a.m. speak of streams of water feet deep sweeping across. Owners of shops in Queen's Road have had an anxious night, many of them having been up all night directing bailing operations. As usual the shops in the neighbourhood of the Tabaqueria Filipina have suffered mainly through their low lying position. A+ St. Francis Street, Wanchai, a number of houses were in danger of collapsing through the floods and when owners abandoned them last night many of them, were swept away by floods of water racing down the street. There appear to have been no casualties, however. Slight landslides are reported at Magazine Gap Road and Macdonnell Road.

Ten Inches of Rain. Official figures of the rainfall, supplied, on application, by Mr. C. W. Jeffries, acting Director, Royal Observatory, show that between 8 p.m. and midnight over 7½ inches fell and by 11-30 this morning the total had became 10.25

The heaviest rainfall would appear to have been between 10-30 p.m. and 11.30 p.m. when 3.160 inches fell. Other figures are 1.015 in.; between 930 p.m. and 10.30 p.ni., 2.010 in.; between 11.30 p.m. and 12.30, 1.320 in.

The maximum rainfall on one civil day, Mr. Jeffries informs us, was 20.495 inches on May 30 1889, and the present fall has been exceeded on many occasions since. The over night rainfall will pro-put on full supply in a day or so, the "China Mail" was informed upon enquiry.

A Chinese was taken to the Government Civil Hospital with a fractured foot. The injuries were caused by the man hesitating before an Aberdeen motor 'bus at the junction of Queen's Road West and Centre Street.
